

Dean D. A. Shirley Resigns from West Texas State Faculty

Dr. D. A. Shirley has resigned as Dean of West Texas State College and as a member of the faculty on which he has efficiently served since coming to the college in the fall of 1913. His resignation was effective January 1, 1949, and was given to President James P. Cornette because of continued poor health. Had he served until retirement age, he would have been with the college longer than any previous faculty member.

Dr. Shirley has been confined to the Neblett Hospital since December 3, and he has been unable to go to his office in the administration building on the campus since the first of October.

The resignation of Dean Shirley removes from the faculty the senior member of the group, following the retirement of Dr. J. A. Hill on September 1, 1948. Dr. Hill had been a member of the faculty for 38 years, while Dean Shirley has served for 36 years with the institution. Mr. Shirley had been head of the Christian College at Hereford, and was later a member of the faculty of the Hereford public schools when selected by President R. B. Cousins as head of the Physics department of the new normal college in Canyon. Since moving to Canyon, Dr. Shirley has had a very vital part in all community affairs, as well as those of the college.

In addition to his classroom work, Mr. Shirley was interested in athletics and served as coach of the football team during the early days of the college. He was chairman of the Athletic Committee of the College until he was elevated to the office of Dean two years ago. He has represented West Texas State in the various athletic conferences to which it has belonged during the past years.

Mr. Shirley became Registrar of the College in 1923 and continued in this capacity for 23 years. In recent years he was Associate Dean of the College, and likewise Dean of the Upper Division of the College. Following the death of Dean R. P. Jarrett, in July, 1946, Mr. Shirley was named Dean of the College, and relinquished his duties as Registrar.

Dr. Shirley has the happy faculty of getting along with people well. He has handled the affairs of his office in a most satisfactory manner, and has never hesitated in carrying out the policies of the college in the light of good administration. Regardless of the toughness of the problem at hand, he has always handled situations to a happy conclusion. During the 30 years in which Dr. J. A. Hill served as President, Dr. Shirley was one of his most substantial advisors and closest personal friends.

The work of Dr. Shirley has not been confined to West Texas State. He is a charter member of the Canyon Rotary Club; was second president of the Club; and maintained a perfect attendance record so long as his health permitted. He was director of the singing for several years.

Throughout the years while a resident of Canyon, Dr. Shirley has been a member of the Canyon Chamber of Commerce and has always taken an active part in the development of the community.

He is a life-long member of the Christian Church, and has been an officer in his church since coming to Canyon. He has seldom missed a service in his church, and every pastor who has served the local congregation has leaned heavily upon his judgment in the conduct of the church.

During the fall it became evident that Dr. Shirley's health was failing and it was recommended that he take a vacation trip. Mr. and Mrs. Shirley drove to California, enjoying a wonderful trip, returning home in time for the Homecoming of West Texas State.

Dr. Shirley has been well trained for the position that he has held in the college. He received his B. A. degree from T. C. U.; M. A. from the University of Michigan; and was honored by T. C. U. with the LL. D. degree in 1940.

Mr. and Mrs. Shirley have two children, a son, Lewis, a contractor in Amarillo; and a daughter, Miss Louise, teacher in the Ogden, Utah, public schools.

Having decided that he should be relieved of future duties and the worries of his office in the college, friends of the family in Canyon and ex-students throughout the Panhandle trust that Dean Shirley will soon be sufficiently recovered in strength of body in order to enjoy many years of happiness among his friends.

"Upon advice of my physicians I have resigned because I will not stay on the payroll while unable to do the work," stated Dean Shirley Tuesday. "I have no plans for the future other than to get well and enjoy living among my friends in the Panhandle," concluded Dean Shirley.

The Chamber of Commerce will hold its annual banquet as soon as arrangements can be completed for the affair. The banquet was skipped last year because of the big affair given by the Chamber and Rotary Club honoring Dr. and Mrs. James P. Cornette when they arrived in Canyon.

Delbert Lowes is in charge of arrangements for the coming banquet and will soon announce committees for the affair.

The board of directors met Thursday night, but will not complete organization for the coming year's work until the regular monthly meeting on January 27.

Forrest Weimhold is of opinion President Truman Be Curbed

Forrest Weimhold, president of the Panhandle Press Association, returned Friday night from Washington, D. C., but managed to get to the regional meeting of the association here on Saturday. He publishes the Hockley County Herald, Levelland.

Mr. Weimhold conferred with the Texas delegation while in Washington regarding legislation in which his section is greatly interested. He says that the opinion prevails that President Truman will be curbed in his demand for more taxes, and his civil rights program. Weimhold believes that practically all of the Texas delegation will oppose these measures.

While in Washington he did not get to confer with Senator Tom Connally, who was tied up on committee hearings.

Palbearers for the service were members of the Veterans of Foreign Wars and the American Legion posts here.

Surviving relatives include the step-father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. Dan O'Donald, who live southwest of Canyon; and two sisters, Mrs. Ethel L. Bisieglia, Summerfield, N. M., and Mrs. Mary Rose White, Morton.

Mrs. George Hand spent a few days this week in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Dr. Cornette In Praise of Dean D. A. Shirley

"The history of any college is the composite shadows of the great personalities whose lives have gone into its making. Personality of Dean D. A. Shirley, or Doug as he has been affectionately known by those who know and love him best, is one of the greatest of West Texas State personalities and its brightness as well as his contributions will endure through many years to come," stated President James P. Cornette.

Resigns Post of Dean West Texas

DEAN D. A. SHIRLEY

Dr. J. A. Hill Hopes for Speedy Recovery of Dean

The following statement was made by Dr. J. A. Hill, President Emeritus of West Texas State:

"The resignation of Dean D. A. Shirley from the faculty of West Texas State naturally arouses in me many deep-rooted emotions. Doug and I were intimately associated as officials of the college for 35 years. Not often did we fail to see eye to eye and never, as I recall, did we have cause to 'fuss.' To be sure, we disagreed sometimes, but neither ever impeached the motives of the other nor harbored any bad feelings whatsoever.

"Doug Shirley loves teaching, loves the college, loves youth, loves friends, loves work. Probably more than nine-tenths of those in a position to know would say that he worked too hard. It may be this is the reason he has felt compelled to resign. Only a month ago I heard a very prominent citizen of the Panhandle say:

"I guess Doug Shirley has his faults, but I have never seen one. To me he has always appeared the perfect public servant. The loss of a man like that from the staff of anybody's college is most unfortunate.

"Thousands of Doug's friends will be wishing him speedy and complete recovery—none more than his collaborator and buddy—J. A. (Joe) Hill."

Governor Refuses to Submit Museum Bill as an Emergency

While in Austin last week, J. Evetts Haley conferred with Governor Jester and asked him to submit the $125,000 appropriation for the Panhandle-Plains Museum as an emergency. The Governor refused to take such action.

An appropriation for $90,000 for each the museum here and at Tech failed at the close of the last session of the legislature when the Comptroller decided there was not enough money available to pay the appropriation. The bill was passed together with a number of other appropriations during the closing hours. The total appropriated in these measures was about $4,000,000. The state ended the year with a balance of $100,000,000 cash.

The Museum measure will be re-introduced by Senator Grady Hazlewood and Representative J. Blake Timmons.

New Building Houses Roberts Welding Company

One of the first buildings to be built in Randall County, was torn down last week when work was completed on the new building occupied by Roberts Welding Company on Fifth Avenue, just west of the square. The back of the building had been torn away some weeks ago, making room for the new construction.

John Knight built the original building here in 1891, on lots given him by L. G. Conner, founder of Canyon, who was trying at that time to build up the community. Mr. Knight had what he called an Iron and Wood Repair Shop on this site, and was in business there for 17 years.

Art Roberts, present owner, has been in his present location since 1946. The new building is back some 40 feet from the street.

Propose Program for Chamber

"What would you suggest that the Chamber of Commerce take as its main project for promotion this year?"

Upon being asked this question this week, a surprisingly large number of people said, "Oh, do we have a Chamber of Commerce, I didn't know they ever did anything."

In the year 1948, the Canyon Chamber of Commerce sent out over 1500 letters of advertisement and answering inquiries sent to it; it helped promote the reappointment of Newton Harrell to the Board of Regents, and got the town together on holidays and military funerals.

Several possibilities of getting small industry into Canyon were investigated with near success in some instances, but in most the possibilities died a natural death. Either a building was not available, land for building could not be had, or something else would come up that would decide the owners against settling in Canyon. Most of these possibilities would have been non-competitive and have brought more money and taxes into Canyon, but Canyon offered no inducements for them to come here as other towns in this vicinity have done, so the Chamber of Commerce's efforts met with no avail.

Total collections made last year by the Chamber of Commerce were $3,962.30, and some of this sum was spent for such things as $2.00 paid on each physical examination given to the first 50 men joining the National guard; buying a belt and buckle set for the prize that was given at the Aggie Club Rodeo; paying all the expenses for the Regional Tournament in April; sending two delegates to Austin to confer with the State Highway Department in regard to fixing and maintaining the road in Palo Duro Park; sponsoring the advertising of West Texas State College in papers in 26 counties in this vicinity; paying $300.00 on the West Texas State Homecoming barbecue; giving prizes to citizens for best residential Christmas decorations; paying for Christmas decorations in the business district; and the Chamber of Commerce was most instrumental in promoting the resolution for a garbage and sewer disposal charge which was presented last week to the City Commission.

Officers of the Chamber of Commerce for 1948 were A. B. Holt, executive secretary; E. R. Cleavinger, president; Jack N. Jennings, secretary; and directors were Clyde Warwick, Joe Baber, V. K. McCaskill, John Hammond, Ray Campbell, Herschel Coffee, Elmer Wooten, Newton Crain, D. E. Lowes and Lee Foster.

And here's what some of Canyon's citizens suggest for the Chamber to promote during 1949:

Lorenzo Wirt: "Something needs to be done by someone about traffic regulations in the city. That is the most serious problem I see right now."

Mayor W. A. Warren: "Promote some kind of housing program to take care of people who want to come here to school. The city has many calls, in both winter and summer, for help in locating small apartments, and of course they are not to be had. It would also be a good idea, I think, for the Chamber of Commerce to send out literature explaining the advantages of Canyon to small industry. We could make contacts and interest them in locating here—give them some inducement to come here. If the interests in the East knew of our layout with main railroads and highways going right through our town, they would definitely be interested." J. W. Shook: "Bring plenty of pressure to bear on the City Commission to buy an adequate fire truck to fight fire. If they don't, our insurance rates are going to go up 'till it's going to cost us the price of a fire truck and we'll not have the first truck either!"

Worth Jennings: "The snow was all graded off early Thursday morning on most of the West Side of the square to take care of the drainage there, but when I inquired at the city hall to have Fourth Avenue graded in front of our business establishments, I was told the sun would melt it off. Can the Chamber of Commerce do anything about that?"

Faye Cannedy: "I'm too busy to think about it."

O. W. Parker: "I'm in favor of putting some street markers in this town, so strangers in town can find their way around."

A. L. Grabbe: "I'll vote for a new fire truck."

Billy Black: "I think this town needs some enforcement of the law regarding traffic regulations, and if the Chamber of Commerce can help, they should."

D. R. Weaver: "Being as unfamiliar as I am with Canyon and the Chamber of Commerce, I have no suggestions to make."

John Hunter: "I believe the best project they could do for the good of the town, would be to see that a new fire truck be purchased."

Mayme Shaver: "I think something should be done to keep streets and sidewalks clean during snowy weather."

Mrs. D. M. Foster: "If they would put up street signs, citizens put up house numbers, and if the North and South streets were named it would be much less confusing."

Robert Bellah: "I want someone to back up the building of a new Army for the National Guard."

Roy Cheatham: "I think it would certainly make for less confusion if someone would sponsor the project of painting street identifications on the curbs."

A. B. Holt: "More public spirit and less selfish interest."

Levi Cole: "Either buy a fire truck for the city or promote the buying of a fire truck for the city."

James Cole: "So far as I know, the Chamber of Commerce has been doing a good job."

"Paul Rogers: "Beautify the town and promote improvement on the highway park."

Mrs. Silas Hart: "I think the traffic problem is the most serious thing that ought to be looked into. We also need a stoplight at Fifth Avenue and the highway."

T. H. Lair: "One good project would be to mark the streets either on the curbs or on poles."

Mrs. M. D. Shepherd: "Pressure should be put on someone to control speeding and traffic violations."

C. L. Joyner: "The only way we're going to progress is to forget about the college making the town, and encourage some kind of industry to come into the town. The Chamber of Commerce would do well to investigate and get some small industry into the town—maybe have a delegate sit in on meetings of the Amarillo Chamber to see how they are inducing big business into the Amarillo vicinity' and better understand the inducements needed to get some small industries here. It would not only help the town now, but give us some backlog of support in case of a depression."

Joe Baber: "One of the best things the Chamber of Commerce could do is to promote a traffic light at 16th Street and 4th Avenue and 15th Street and 4th Avenue."

Director Asks All Out Support March of Dimes

Mrs. C. O. Elkins, campaign director for the March of Dimes in Randall County, is asking the support of every club and every individual in this year's campaign to raise more funds for polio victims.

"Each person and each club in Randall County should take it as their individual responsibility to see to it that our campaign this year is a greater success than ever before, because our need is greater than it has ever been," stated Mrs. Elkins.

Polio hit harder in almost all communities last year, and the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis spent $14,000,000.00 for patient care in 1948 alone. And this is but part of the picture of the work that must continue in the fight against polio. Research and education programs supported by the March of Dimes, cannot be permitted to slacken.

Levi Cole, treasurer for the N. F. I. P. in Randall County, announced that in 1948 Randall County spent $1,350.00 on polio patients from this county. These patients could not have been helped if it had not been for the March of Dimes.

Chairmen for each demonstration club have been appointed, and also for each outlying community.

Individual jars for contributions have been placed in each business house, and any other contributions may be made directly to Mrs. Elkins, or to the community and club chairmen.

There's a great job of work to be done on behalf of thousands of boys and girls stricken by polio—to build up adequate funds to combat epidemics this coming summer and to reinforce the armament of scientific research. Randall County wants to have a share in this most important work, and each family can help guarantee the best of care for any future patients there might be from this county, by giving this year to the March of Dimes.

The plates are manufactured in the penitentiary system, but are delivered by the State Highway Department.

Mrs. Jay Prichard is back at her job at Lindsey Motor Company after having been ill last week.

Survey For Chamber Commerce May Bring Out Good Program

For the third week this year, The News is making a survey of local people to see what the people expect of their Chamber during the coming year.

Since the survey is being taken on Thursday, while this column is being written, the opinions are not being stacked.

Officers of the Chamber have not yet been elected, and therefore any opinion expressed by any citizen or by this writer may neither be interpreted as a back slap, nor a criticism of any officer or director.

The Newsman has been messing with the Canyon Chamber of Commerce for about 38 years. We have seen some mighty good, active officers, while others have not been so good—in our one man's opinion. But on the whole, your Chamber has been about as good, and as active as the money which you have given the Chamber would justify. This is the first time that a survey has been taken of local problems before the Chamber organized. Perhaps we shall have some very fine suggestions made today by the citizens of the community. After all, this is OUR town, and if Canyon is not the BEST TOWN in the Panhandle, it is the fault of each and every citizen, and not the fault of the Chamber.

$300,000 For Inauguration

The joke is on the Republicans.

While GOP was in control of Congress they passed the appropriation for $300,000 for the colossal inauguration which will take place in Washington Thursday. But the GOPers were pointing toward the wrong man who will hold public attention. They thought it would be Tom Dewey!

President Truman allowed the Republicans to go ahead and waste the money for the super-duper inauguration ceremony. After all Truman has not enjoyed the pleasure of such an affair in his own name. Great guns! What will politicians do next?

Shouting "Commie" Proves Zero

Politics does queer things to men. Look at the case of Dean Acheson.

Some guy said that he was a commie, and Congress went into a tail spin before approving him as Secretary of State.

It reminded us of our cousin, who was working in Washington during the war. Some one started an ugly rumor that he was a German sympathizer. FBI hounded him until he demanded proof or be allowed to live a normal life. It was only then that his name was cleared. Up until that time his mail was checked, and his telephone was tapped. No secrecy in his life.

Museum Needs More Money

Attendance at the Panhandle-Plains Museum broke all records in 1948. Why not get a big start in 1949, and set up a new high record for January?

Incidentally, the Museum needs a lot of money to finish the second unit and for the purpose of buying more display cases.

Got a few bucks, or a few hundred extra bucks to help out with this wonderful enterprise?

No "One-shot" Labor Bill

Senator Taft has made it clear that passage of labor laws in Congress is no simple thing. CIO bosses demand two things: Repeal of the Taft-Hartley law; and re-enactment of the old Wagner law.

Taft and the Republicans, backed by a goodly number of Democrats want something more tangible than repeal of the T-H law before diving off the deep end and hoping to get the Wagner act, which was far from sufficient.

Trad Justice in Texas Courts

Almost four years ago a negro killed a woman in Dallas. He was charged with "stomping to death" his victim. The Court of Criminal Appeals reversed the case because the indictment did not say that the stomping was done with his feet.

In another case, the plaintiff got a second trial because the indictment did not charge that the victim was drowned "in water." Such silly reversals have made the Court of Criminal Appeals the laughing stock of Texas for many, many years.

A constitutional amendment has been proposed in the legislature to abolish the poll tax for the purpose of voting. That is in keeping with the edict of the Supreme Court and must come sooner or later. The Governor calls for a "citizen's tax," whatever that may be. We hope that the legislature will not deprive the school fund of a million and one-half dollars in its ambitions to abolish the poll tax.

In these days of high costs, how in the world can needy persons live on $38.39 per month? Yet that is all that blind persons receive. Needy persons who are not blind do not get so much. Assistance is always a knotty problem under any and all circumstances.

In spite of the fact that 60,000,000 persons are employed in the United States, there are more unemployed than in recent years. Congressmen have this in mind when they proclaim that no additional taxes will be imposed in this session, in spite of the plea of the President for more money to spend on government.

The Red forces in China demand that Chiang be tried as a war criminal. However, Chiang and his war lords are not apt to give up so easily and so quickly. The Madame failed to soft-soap Washington out of more money for Chiang to waste, but she is safe in Washington, and may be joined there soon by Chiang.

We see that the Miami Chief has started publication of old cuts which they have in storage. During the war all newspapers were urged to send in all old cuts. We obeyed the request, and have kicked ourselves ever since. We wish that we had those old cuts now, which are invaluable.

How can rent control be justified when all other controls have been released? Building costs, taxes and maintenance have increased, yet owners of property are not supposed to collect more rent than they did during depression days. Why?

Regardless of the frantic efforts being made to stop the increased cost of living, labor leaders are going to seek a fourth round of wage increases. The proposal will again boost the cost of living, and drive down the already inflated dollar.

School Men Claim That Woods Stacked Educational Program

It would seem that when editorials are written so early in the newspaper week there should be some method of correcting false impressions or statements.

This was true last week. The News deplored an education meeting held in Austin where State Supt. L. A. Woods stacked the program and paraded speakers unfavorable to the Gilmer-Aiken proposed educational reforms. The principal plea of Mr. Woods was for continued re-election of the State Superintendent, which naturally meant himself.

Those who attended the first meeting were reported to agree with Woods.

A later meeting of educators condemned Woods for having stacked the first program. So that's that. There will be a merry fight under the big dome at Austin this session. Mr. Woods has fired the first gun.

Truman Does Not Expect All

T. E. Johnson of the Amarillo Times went to Washington to report the opening of Congress. His impressions were interesting.

T. E. indicated that Truman was asking for everything he proposed during the campaign, not because he expected to get full approval by Congress.

Truman feels that there is great need for his entire program, but will be satisfied with a small portion of his demands.

When the session comes to an end, Truman will have his political skirts clear and Congress will be open to criticism if there is any criticism coming.

Consolidation Problems Many

There is much deploring of the passage of the little red school, brought about by consolidation with larger school districts. As we see it, the greatest harm is to the children who are packed into busses so early in the mornings.

Heck, when we were a kid we WALKED 1½ miles daily to one of these super-duper one-room country school houses, and they had to consolidate to get us out of the 4th grade. Great life, any way you take it—especially with 10 below zero, and snow 2 feet deep.

News Office Spick and Span

We hope that visiting newspaper men and women had just half as much fun in Canyon Saturday as we have had getting ready to receive them.

The News has always been praised by visitors as being a clean printing office. But just come in and see the thing glisten, NOW. Next week may be too late.

We urge you to pay us a social visit.

You Will Need Poll Tax in '49

Last week we advised you to pay your poll tax and get ready for the elections which will be held this year. First we have seven members of the Canyon school board to be elected in April. And then we see that on the first day of the legislature two constitutional amendments were proposed to be submitted to the voters this year. You will need that poll tax receipt in 1949, so get busy before January 31.

Labor Laws in Texas Stand

Regardless of what Congress may do about labor laws, Texas still has its own labor laws. CIO is demanding that they be repealed.

The new Speaker of the House is the man who wrote and steered to passage these labor laws. He is not apt to agree that they should be wrecked just because Truman demands such action.

Dust Bowl Threat Lessened

All of us have been worried about the possibility of another dust bowl. Now that good rains have fallen all over the Plains, and much of West Texas below the cap rock, the dangers have subsided.

Those who fought dust back in the '30's are greatly relieved.

One of the penalties for being so far away from your family: Last week a cousin wrote that she was coming through Amarillo and would drop down to Canyon for a visit. Her bus arrived late at night, and a short phone call indicated that she must rush on to California. Now who in the heck was she, anyway. Never heard of her!

As we read of crime in surrounding towns and cities we almost hold our breath and wonder about the likelihood of a crime wave in Canyon. We have had a petty start, but every case has been quickly solved by local officers. Let's hope that we shall continue to be so lucky in handling crime.

Very soon every business and professional man and woman in Randall county will be asked for memberships in the Chamber of Commerce. If you are interested in the future welfare of the county, get on the dotted line!

The Senator from Fort Worth proposes that the legislature "freeze" $50,000,000 and hold this cash for a rainy day. A comfortable nest egg in other words. All of us want our share of the government's cash, so just where will the freeze start, if any?

One auto manufacturer says that we have reached a buyer's market; another manufacturer is cutting production. The used car racket may be seeing the end of the pot of gold.

When towns are growing, problems increase. The town which has no problems is standing still, or declining. Don't be discouraged over the problems of Canyon. Problems are a healthy sign.

The fine January moisture goes a long way toward "making" a good 1949 wheat crop. But wheat crops are never made until the grain is harvested and money collected for the crop.

Dewey points out the fact that Congress lost him the presidency. In every instance Dewey ran ahead of the Congressional candidate on the GOP ticket. Why cry over lost political battles?

Something very, very unusual: The two Texas Senators have agreed upon two different candidates for federal jobs.

Governor Jester warns the legislators not to "over spend." What, with 318 millions in sight!

Two missing faces at Truman's inauguration in Washington today: Tom Dewey and Coke Stevenson.

BOYCE HOUSE

Courage of the highest order was manifested on the Texas frontier by Judge W. C. Linden, venerable attorney, now living in San Antonio. The Bar of the Hill Country has paid him a great tribute (quoted in part):

"First becoming county attorney of Llano County, he was soon elected district attorney. The noted San Saba Mob organization was at the height of its power. Its influence was formidable indeed; its members and sympathizers, extensive. Many were falling victims of its lawlessness and violence. Nighttime homicides were common. Intimidations, extortions and kindred crimes were rampant. Young Linden (this was in the 1890's), with characteristic zeal and energy and in utter defiance of danger, entered into the prosecution of these gentry. If he ever felt the sensation of fear, it was never manifest.

"Many instances of his prosecutions and convictions of these criminals are yet recalled and re-told by old-timers. One instance is where a known sympathizer of the mob was being prosecuted and its various members had assembled in the court room to overawe court and juries. Linden, asking indulgence of the court, in his argument to the jury, called the names, pointed out, one by one these mobsters, relating to the jury their respective connections with the mob and its sundry murders and the evidence he had against them, and concluded by plainly telling the jury that, while his evidence against this accused was ample to warrant conviction, he apprehended that these evil influences about might restrain a jury from doing its duty.

"Concluding his address, he left the court room for his hotel. Encountering on the nearby corner, a collection of these mobsters awaiting him, he deliberately drew his pistol, calmly remarking that he was there to do his duty and no influence could deter him; that they might 'get' him but they knew he would get some of them first, and telling them to have the man posted a short way down the street with his gun to put it away, he passed them and walked deliberately to his hotel where, in a short time, came the message that the jury, to the surprise of all, had convicted the accused.

"The influence of the able and fearless Linden, as district attorney, ney, accomplished more than all other agencies toward the breaking up of the notorious San Saba Mob, a service within itself never to be forgotten in the annals of the Hill Country administration of justice."

Bible Course At College Offered To Public

John B. Hunter, Bible Department of West Texas State College, announces that he will teach a Bible course at the Baptist Student Center for the Spring Semester on Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock for the general public. The first class will meet February 7th and all who expect to take the course are urged to be present for the first class meeting. The course is open to all who wish to make the study, and no fee will be asked, except for the person who makes arrangement with the college for one hour credit, which may be done. Any person who wants to take the course for the credit must register for it with the college before the enrollment is made.

Paul Hoffman, Marshall Plan Administrator, is concerned over the failure of newspapers in Europe to pay much attention to the billions in aid U. S. is giving their countries. People are being left with the impression that this country is handing out dollars because it needs to in order to keep business at home from slowing, and in order to keep Communists from making gains.

Herbert Hoovers' Commission on Government Reorganization is stirring up a hornet's nest with its tentative suggestions for streamlining the Department of State. Diplomats in the Foreign Service who have stood off successfully any attempt over the years to trim their power or special status are getting set to try to maintain that record of success.

Ohio's Senator Robert Taft has expressed the opinion of his Republican colleagues in the Senate that it might be unwise for the party to regain control of Congress again in 1950. He thought the strategy should be to win the "great" States in preparation for 1952, but not to be so concerned about the others. Republicans from States that might not be considered "great" are not too pleased by that attitude.

That is the best government which desires to make the people happy, and knows how to make them happy. —T. B. Macaulay.

EXPOSE COMING Spain, Reds, Nazis Linked

WASHINGTON. — The United States, Britain and France are planning to publish new facts about Spain and Russia's secret negotiations with Nazi Germany.

Details of the pre-war Hitler-Stalin deal to divide Poland will be bared for the first time in two separate 1,000-page volumes now under preparation.

Evidence of German, Italian and Russian intervention in the Spanish civil war will feature a third volume dealing with Franco's relations with Hitler from 1936 to 1939.

Three of 25 Volumes

Diplomatic officials told a report of the state department, in cooperation with the British and French foreign offices, plans to start publishing these documents early next year. They will be printed in English, French and German.

They will be but three of the 25 volumes being prepared by historians of the three countries from German records captured by First Army troops in the closing days of the war. The researchers had to burrow through 450 tons of documents to sift out the essential material.

Soviet Russia's relations with Germany will not be dealt with in separate volumes, but will be included in two volumes telling of general Nazi foreign policy prior to the outbreak of war in September, 1939.

This may be due to a desire to avoid further disturbing touchy relations with Russia. Moscow bitterly denounced the state department early this year after it publicized part of the record of Soviet-German negotiations as revealed in Nazi documents.

Contains More Detail

A government official working on the project said, however, the two new volumes being edited now will contain "twice as much detail" on this subject as the earlier state department volume which ran 362 pages. This fact alone may evoke a new outburst from Moscow.

Official German documents will be published intact to show step-by-step the secret intrigues which led to the 1939 Russian-German non-aggression pact which doomed Poland. The papers will then trace in detail the growing distrust between the two nations resulting from their failure to agree on spheres of influence despite lengthy negotiation.

One point that stands out, this official said, is that Hitler and the Nazi foreign office had no spies in Russia—unlike the situation elsewhere—and were forced to rely entirely upon their embassy in Moscow for information.

Group Offers New Hope To Couples Now Childless

BOSTON.—Childless couples who want children have twice as good a chance of having them today as 20 years ago. Sterility now can be overcome in about 40 per cent of such marriages, a group of medical specialists here has reported. Only 20 per cent could be treated successfully in 1927.

In that year four faculty members of the Boston university school of medicine formed the first organized group for the systematic study of sterility. They were a gynecologist, a urologist, a specialist on endocrine glands and an internist.

This group has studied some 500 childless couples, with each specialist making complete examinations and tests.

One main finding is that sterility is usually due to more than one single trouble.

There are 40 to 50 different conditions that can lower fertility and generally four or five were found in each couple.

"In over 80 per cent of cases, these conditions depressing fertility were divided between husband and wife," the group's report said.

Vets Pass 18 Million Mark; Total Loans Are $8 Million

WASHINGTON.—The war veteran population in the United States now stands in excess of 18 million, according to an announcement by the Veterans' administration.

There are approximately 15 million World War II veterans now living, and 3.8 million veterans of other wars. Of the 18.3 million, 186,000 are in schools and colleges.

About 130,000 have obtained home loans under federal guaranty; 48,000 have obtained farm loans, and 100,000 have obtained business loans. The loan total is about 8 million dollars.

Total number of disability or compensation cases is 2,263,296.

New automobiles have been obtained for 22,050 disabled veterans. These are paid for by the government if veterans are eligible under the law.

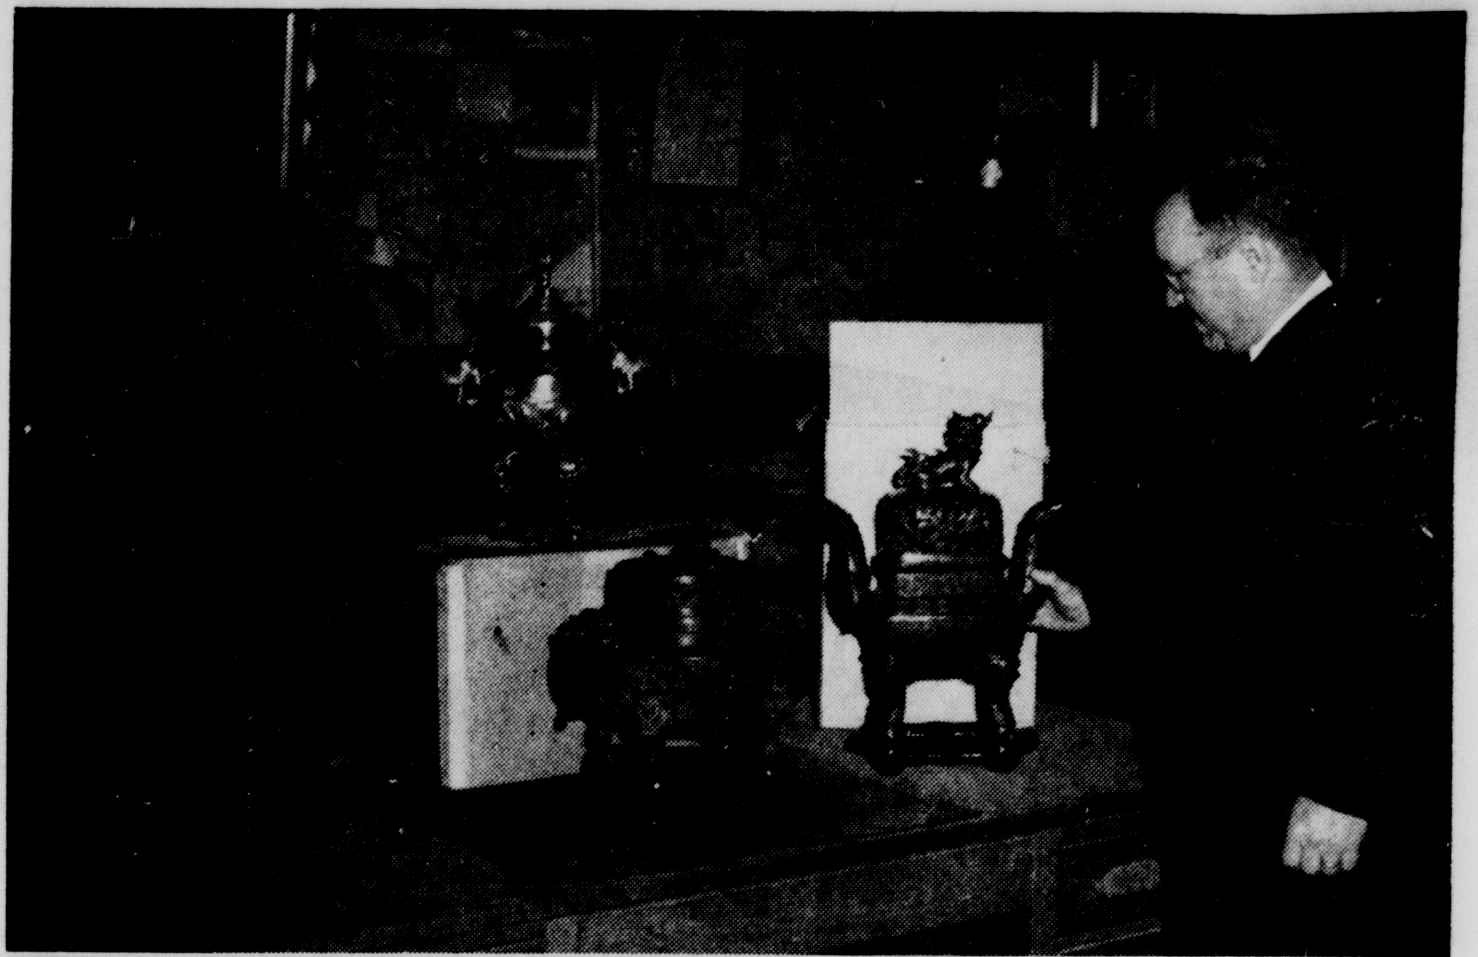

National service life insurance has 19,597,055 approved policies with a face value of more than $152 million.

At the end of October there were 105,762 patients in veterans' hospitals. Awaiting hospital admission were another 15,236.

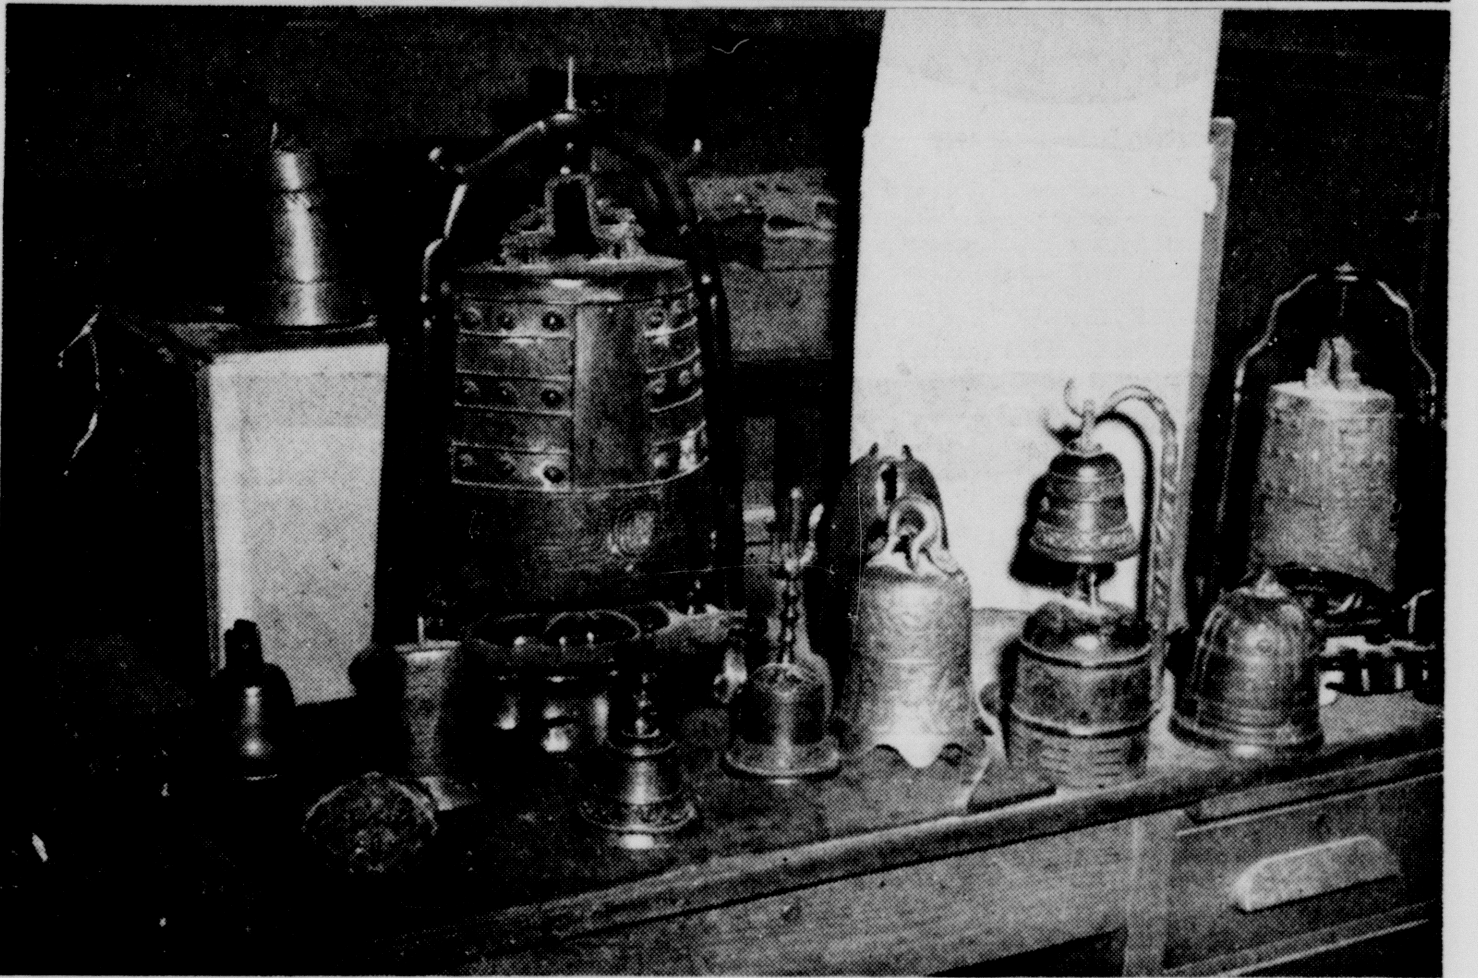

Under the new hospital building program, 89 are in various stages of progress, such as site acquisition, blueprinting and designing.

Payment of accounts reported slowing up in credit survey.

Facts for retailers to keep in mind, during early 1949, say experts, are: (1) the retail slump was not spotty but fairly uniform throughout the nation; (2) the drop was not limited to luxuries and soft goods, but hit hard lines; (3) main factors behind the dip were higher costs in general, layoffs in many areas, small "take home" pay envelopes, growing customer wariness over prices and quality. To meet this trend retailers should show greater caution in ordering, limit size of stocks, push sales harder, make prices as attractive as possible.

Sen. Ralph E. Flanders (R-Vt.), who found a better case for high business profits than he expected, wants the Administration to call a conference of labor, business and farm leaders to thrash out some long-range economic policies. If the White House doesn't get around to this, Flanders may ask the Senate to sponsor such a conference.

WHEN?

Remember when we used to do without something when it cost too much?

Annual Meeting Women's Council

The women of the First Presbyterian Church had their annual meeting on Friday night, January 14. Reports of all officers and committee chairmen were given covering the work for 1948. Looking back over the past year's work the president said that "it seems the work they had done in His name had been as a book of beautiful melodies, that each officer had played her own particular air but altogether the music had ascended to the throne as a great blend of lovely music—an all time Hit Parade."

The annual reports were presented as parts of this Hit Parade

There is no such thing as a "little" cold because any cold is the first break in your natural defenses and can quickly and easily develop into a serious infection of the respiratory tract. So don't treat a "little" cold lightly. Take care of it promptly. If a cold "hangs on" or begins with chills and fever, call your doctor. designed to give beauty to the whole. A large book had been prepared in which a file of each written report might be kept. A page was designated for each officer, at the top of which a suitable verse was printed for her particular work, and underneath this was a bar of music with a particular chord of notes symbolic of that office. Mrs. Lee Foster played softly as a musical background as each report was being given, a melody hymn suitable to the office.

When all had completed their reports and filed them in the book, it was closed and the song was ended. The president then gave the challenge that the Council face the new year with that same joy and to let each "tune" be given its rightful place on the Hit Parade.

The reports given revealed that great strides had been made in the women's work since its organization in 1903 with only twelve members, with now 83. Besides money gifts to the on-going work of the Church many boxes have been sent to a Hungarian minister and his family, supplies for hospitals both in the United States and in foreign fields have been sent, Christmas cheer for Indians in Arizona, and several Pack-a-towel packages had been given through the Canyon Council of Church Women, as well as other projects of this program.

The following officers were elected and installed for the year 1949: President, Mrs. A. B. Haynes; 1st Vice Pres., Mrs. W. E. Miller, 2nd V. P., Mrs. J. J. Raso; Secretary, Miss Mae Simmons, Treasurer, Mrs. C. L. Thompson; Literature and Missionary Education, Mrs. Joe Black; Stewardship and Spiritual Life, Mrs. A. A. Advertising Rates Too Low Says John D. Barton at Rotary

John D. Barton of Amarillo spoke Tuesday at the Canyon Rotary club, giving a vocational talk on the grocery business. He was introduced by Ray Campbell.

"The grocery business has come a long way since the days of the cracker barrel and the community meeting place around the big stove," said the speaker. "One piece of equipment today costs more than the entire stock in years past."

The grocery business is highly competitive; has high standards; and engaged in by men who know your family and their needs.

Today there are three kinds of grocers: The lone wolf, or independent; those engaged in associated buying; and the chains.

Mr. Barton pointed out that all are doing a good job, but warned that prices cannot go down as rapidly as the buying public may wish. Volume is the only reason for low grocery prices.

Advertising is the backbone of the grocery business. Mr. Barton said that advertising rates were too low at the present time.

Canyon was highly praised by the speaker. "You are doing a better job here than most of you realize." His daughter, Mrs. M. E. Cleavinger, attended college here for four years, and now makes Canyon her home.

The speaker advised Canyon people to stay at home to do their trading. They do not save by going away.

"Keep your town morally clean and you will not have the trouble that we are having in the larger city," advised Mr. Barton.

Visitors were: J. H. Brown, Arch Hunsley, E. E. Cavendar, W. A. Graham, Wm. R. Curtis, all of Amarillo; Dr. W. J. Wooten, W. A. Warren, M. E. Cleavinger, of Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Prichard and Diane visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. McFarland near Dumas on Sunday.

Headlines are featuring adverse news and overlooking the good. True, mild to strong setbacks are evident in individual lines; a buyers' market is returning on a broadening front, bringing with it some price cutting production curtailment and labor lay-offs. But these are due in part to seasonal factors and 1949 is actually starting off with business close to its prewar peak.

Every time a new auto goes on the road the oil industry must spend $530 for plant equipment to produce its petroleum needs. Each additional home oil burner requires a kindred capital outlay of $670; a truck, $970; a Diesel locomotive, $108,000; a transport plane, $221,000.

Where ice hit telephone lines

DAMAGE EXCEEDS $2,300,000

Last week's ice and sleet storm struck telephone communications in the Southwest the hardest blow they'd received since 1937.

Damage to telephone lines exceeds $2,300,000 in the area shown on the map above.

Telephone construction men, 3,000 of them, with their trucks and tools, moved into the storm region from all directions.

At the height of the storm 180 communities in four states had no outside telephone communications whatever.

The storm disrupted service for many thousands of telephone users for varying periods. We regret the interruption to service and we sincerely appreciate the patience people everywhere have demonstrated.

The size of the repair job that 3,000 telephone workmen are now tackling can be measured in the damage—108,000 wire breaks, 9,000 poles down, 2,600 long distance circuits out of service, 19,000 telephones temporarily silent.

By states, the money losses are $600,000 in Missouri, $380,000 in Kansas, $570,000 in Oklahoma, and $750,000 in Texas.

The poles, wire, crossarms, and all the other things needed to restore service are coming into the storm area by train and by truck. They're coming from Missouri, Texas, Alabama, Louisiana, Tennessee, Mississippi, Illinois, Pennsylvania, New Jersey, Maryland.

Telephone men began the repair job while the sleet still was falling. Long after emergency service is restored everywhere they'll still be at work until all damaged telephone equipment has been repaired and replaced, and everyone's service is back to normal.

Buffaloes Lost Friday Night to Texas Tech at Burton Gym---Meet Hardin

It was a noisy, hysterically happy overflow crowd that cheered the West Texas State Buffaloes when they tied the score 35-35 with the Texas Tech Red Raiders midway through the second half of a Border Loop battle in Canyon Friday night. But it was the same crowd that left the Burton Gym in stony silence nine minutes later as the scoreboard read 53-39 in favor of the Raiders.

The defeat was the Buffs' third conference loss against four wins. It was Tech's sixth victory. By winning it, Tech became top contender for the Border Conference crown.

Coach Gus Miller's Buffaloes led the high-flying Raiders for five minutes. Bill Miller rammed in a one-hander to score for WT first, then Charles Barnard added a gratis flip before Tech found the basket. Bill Banks fired two free shots for Tech and that ended the scoring in the first five minutes.

That also ended the Buffs' lead, a highly contested item which they never regained.

It was just a matter of seconds till every member of the Tech five found the range. Lanky Gene Gibson did the most damage, contributing three field goals and two free pitches in the first half.

The Tech defense held Buff scoring to a minimum until the recess, with All-Conference center Don Grove controlling the backboards.

The Buffs had just one chance per shot because of Grove's effective board work, and they couldn't make those count, hitting only four field tries in the first half.

Texas was ahead only seven points at half-time, 24-17, though, because the West Texans capitalized on seven free shots.

Buff mentor Gus Miller abandoned his two team system in the first frame, sending his "short" team in one at a time until just before the half he had them all on the floor.

He let them stay there as the second half opened and they quickly set about to prove the wisdom of his judgment.

After four minutes of see-saw play the Buff fast break caught fire. J. W. Malone, Sammy Malone, Bill Allen and Don Woods all helped as did Kenneth Simpson who didn't score but whose stellar court play furnished the needed "shot in the arm."

J. W. Malone started it with a fast breaking field goal to make the score read WT 20, Tech 34. Then in the process he chunked three charity baskets and set up field goals by Allen and brother Sammy.

The West Texas home crowd went wild as the Buffs drew within three points of the Raiders. Then Tech edged in a foul shot, the only tally they could manage during the Buff spree.

Coach Polk Robinson's quint called time out as Bill Allen's bucket knotted the count with nine minutes left at 35 all.

The rest did the trick, and Tech quietly forged ahead again, piling up six points before two minutes elapsed. From there on they coasted with little effort.

Gus Miller sent in fresh replacements but it was too late to stem the tide and Tech wrapped it up as forward Chester Jackson rimmed three goals and a free toss in the closing minutes. West Texas hit only 18 per cent of its field tries, 20 or more percent less than usual. Tech converted 39 per cent of its chances and that was the difference. Tech was hitting, WT was not. But some loyal Buffalo fans were defiantly muttering as they left the gym, "It's gonna be different down there."

France's Gen. Charles de Gaulle, who wants a strong Government in France with himself at the head of it, is beginning to fear that he may have missed the political boat. The present middle-of-the-road Government is gaining in prestige, with both the far left and the far right apparently further away from power than seemed probable a while back.

Leon Keyserling, member of the President's Council of Economic Advisers and at present No. 1 New Dealer in the Government, wrote the major portion of President Truman's State of the Union message. Mr. Keyserling is more and more influential in White House councils when economic policy is shaped.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, Jr., of Massachusetts, is being referred to as the man who is to be backed by Senator Arthur Vandenberg, of Michigan, for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952. The Lodge-Vandenberg political tie-up is becoming quite close.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg came out of the recent Republican caucus as the one Republican leader of the 80th Senate who is passed by in distribution of titles for the 81st Congress. The Michigan Senator had been spoken of as chairman of the Republican conference, but that job went to Colorado's Senator Eugene Millikin instead.

China's Chiang Kai-shek is being pressed by U. S. to make a deal with the Chinese Communists so that this country won't face the problem of continued recognition of Chiang's Government as the legal Government of China while the Communists are in control of the key areas of that part of the world.

Ernest Bevin, Britain's Foreign Secretary, still is trying to maneuver U. S. into a position of opposition to the Jewish state of Israel in its relations with the Arabs. U. S. view is that Israel has won, with arms, the argument over its future status in the Middle East.

Dean Acheson is not on as close terms with Defense Secretary James Forrestal as were General George Marshall and Under Secretary Robert Lovett. When Mr. Acheson moves into the top post in the State Department, the views of the armed services are not to have as much influence in foreign policy.

Senator Arthur Vandenberg is losing influence as a foreign-policy adviser because he publicly rebuked President Truman for the Vinson "mission-to-Moscow" proposal. That is one reason behind the Democratic Party decision to reduce the Republican membership on the Senate Foreign Relations Committee.

Russia's Stalin hasn't sparked as yet to the Truman hint that U. S. might like to try to do some business with him. The President was trying to draw a feeler from Russia when he said that some members of the Russian ruling group were anxious to deal with this country.

When a people shall have become incapable of governing themselves and fit for a master, it is of little consequence from what quarter he comes.—George Washington.

W. Bedell Smith, U. S. Ambassador to Russia: "We are wrong to take the view the present tense situation will explode into war tomorrow or the next day."

Marshall Tito, Ruler of Yugoslavia: "Great things can never be built by foul means and in a dishonest way."

J. F. Victory says U. S. planes exceed sound speed by 30 per cent.

John Foster Dulles, acting-head, U. S. Delegation to United Nations General Assembly: "Some progress has been made toward laying the foundation for peace."

American
Relates Korean Story
WASHINGTON.—An American recently arrived here from South Korea tells this one:
In a conversation with a Red Army general in Seoul, capital of the young Korean republic, the American chanced to mention the activities of "Korean Communists" in Southern Korea.
The general interrupted:
"There's no such thing as a Korean Communist," said he.
"These people aren't sufficiently advanced or enlightened to be capable of even understanding the theory of communism, and still less are they capable of putting the theory into practice."
In other words, according to the general, Koreans just aren't bright enough to be Reds.

Civilian Defense
Plans Slow Moves,
Voluntary Helpers
WASHINGTON.—The Office of Civilian Defense planning will move slowly and will do these three things:
1—It will work through the governor of each state;
2—It will work through the state executive down through the city government;
3—It will want all the help possible from the Red Cross, local civic groups, and local police and fire departments it can get in planning for a defense against any alternative, whether disaster or war.
This is the word of Aubrey H.
Mellinger, retired Chicago businessman, who has taken over as civil defense planning administrator at the request of President Truman.

"I took the job," explained Mellinger, "with the understanding that nothing I did would be finally approved until Congress had acted to set up a civilian defense unit."
"I don't think there will be any need for early mobilization of 15 million Americans to protect us against atom bombs and poison gas attacks but there is a real need to get a skeleton force organized to prepare for something that might happen."
"We shall not have the block-to block set up in any community until we have further talks, and until Congress has acted on the money.
But we will try to get regional groups started after our talks with state governors and city leaders."
"The work must be voluntary."

Kipperd Herring Plague Worry to Britishers YARMOUTH, ENGLAND.—The
kippered herring, like the old gray mare, ain't what she used to be.
That isn't big news, but it strikes near home. A good kipper for breakfast is a British institution.
Great Yarmouth (Little Yarmouth is on the Isle of Wight) is the best place to learn about herrings in all their forms. Like Lowestoft, it was closed to fishing during World War II and used as a naval base. Many of the famous "rows," the narrow lanes running at right angles to the sea, that made Yarmouth like a gridiron, have been flattened out.
But fishing activity is back to prewar. This is proving a good season, considering that only 428
"drifters" are operating, compared to 750 and more before the war, but the herring itself has gone back on its dependents.
One partial, temporary reason for the poor quality is that there was a cold, sunless summer and the herring ate badly and are not as fat as they ought to be.
Andrew Anderson, chief adviser of the Government's Herring Board, said today he never saw poorer herrings than this year.
However, the trouble with the kipper is more deep-seated. Herring fishing is one of the rare industries in Britain where traditional quality has been sacrificed to quantity and profits.
After being cut, gutted, and cleaned, herring are made into kippers by soaking in salt brine and smoking over oak or other hardwood fires. In the old days kippers were smoked 20 to 22 hours.

Pasadena Commission
Flaunts Superstition
PASADENA.—Dogs do not howl in the presence of death, the Pasadena Planning Commission ruled.
Without citing scientific thought on the meta-physical subject, the commission granted permission to Robert L. Stump to erect a mortuary next to an animal shelter. One resident of the area told the commission last week that dogs in the shelter, sensing the proximity of death, would howl—and keep neighbors awake.

Saxony Plans Eradication
Of All Trace of Germans BERLIN.—Not a stone will be left standing in Soviet-occupied Saxony to remind Germans of Junker rule.
The Russian-licensed news agency ADN said the Saxon Government will raze 301 castles and 2,155 mansions that once belonged to the rich nobility.
Salvaged materials will be used for houses for thousands of farmers who received small parcels of the land when Saxony's great estates were broken up in 1945 on Russian order.
Grange leaders see continued high returns to farmers.

Industrial Arts Department of WT Given More Expanded Quarters

panding Industrial Arts Department is R. E. Prichard, senior, taught in the room pictured. New work benches, shelves, drawers, tools have been installed plus a new paint job and the addi-

Further expansion of this department is anticipated by John Gillis and Sidney Burgess, instructors.

Newspaper Workers Visit Canyon, News Plant Saturday in Third of Series Regional Meets for the Year

Newspaper workers of this area of the Panhandle Press Association gathered at Canyon Saturday for the third sectional meeting of this organization. The first meeting was held in Perryton in September; the second at Wellington in November.
The weather reduced the attendance in Canyon when 19 who had made reservations were unable to attend.
Typography was the subject for discussion at Saturday's meeting, following the clinic held in Wellington which sought to give incentive for the production of more attractive newspapers.
George Autry and John Forkner of Amarillo led in the discussion on typography. Autry has served in several Amarillo shops while Forkner is a member of the McCormick staff. Both have made intensive studies of the subject in order to produce better printing and better advertising layouts.
The Canyon News office was visited by the newspaper workers. The program was held in the American Legion Hall.
Forrest Weimhold, president of the Panhandle Press Association and publisher of the Hockley County Herald, Levelland, presided at the morning session.
A discussion of typography followed the talks of the two Amarillo men.
A luncheon was served at noon at the Methodist Fellowship Hall at noon, complimentary of the Chamber of Commerce. Clyde W. Warwick presided at the luncheon.

would appropriate enough money to complete the second unit.
Forrest Weimhold, president, closed the program at the church, by urging that all members of the press in this area attend the 40th Annual Convention to be held in Amarillo on April 8-9.
Members of the group spent the balance of the afternoon in looking over the Museum and inspecting the various exhibits.

THE NEW FUTURAMICS

FUTURAMIC—the most glamorous word in motor cars now applies to two great lines of Oldsmobiles. Not only the newly styled Futuramic
"98"—but also a brand new Futuramic "76" with a new '49 Fisher Body that's lower, wider and offers greater visibility. And this year, Oldsmobile has struck a new balance of power with two great engines for these Futuramic cars. The new "Big Six" Engine in the "76" is more powerful than ever. And the new "98" is powered by the revolutionary "Rocket" Engine. It's a high-compression, valve-in-head eight—an engineering marvel that steps up horsepower to 135, yet actually cuts down on gas costs. Words can't describe it.

Co-operation of All Persons in the Control of Mumps

Commenting on the necessity for individual cooperation in effecting the control of mumps, now widespread throughout the State, Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, emphasizes the fact that the contagion factor is present before any symptoms appear, and strict isolation of all patients is the surest means of controlling the spread of this disease.

Mumps is transmitted by direct contact with an infected person or articles freshly contaminated by the secretions of the mouth or nose of persons having the disease. It takes from 12 to 26 days for mumps to manifest itself after the infection occurs. The disease can be easily transmitted, but one attack usually establishes permanent immunity and second attacks very rarely occur.

The most easily recognizable characteristic symptom of mumps is a painful swelling of the salivary glands. Sometimes there is an involvement of other portions of the body, causing disturbances in the digestive, nervous, circulatory, and genito-urinary systems. The disease is usually accompanied by a temperature rise which more often than not is mild.

"Patients suffering from this disease should be isolated from other members of the family immediately upon the suspicion that mumps exists, and the family physician should be called in promptly," Dr. Cox said. "In the meantime, complete rest in bed is indicated. The doctor's orders should be followed strictly. Violating his instructions can lead to serious injury, which may permanently affect the patient's health."

Relief for Overseas Students

Thirty-seven duffle-bags of clothing for overseas relief stand as proof that the recent B.S.U. drive was successful. During the week before the Christmas holidays the Baptist Student Union sponsored a clothing drive in the dormitories and the residential area of Canyon. Some twelve hundred pounds of usable clothing, shoes, and rags were collected, sorted, mended and packed by members of the group. The bags are now ready for shipment to the church relief agency at New Orleans to needy students in Europe and Asia.

The B.S.U. extends its gratitude to all those who cooperated in the worthwhile project.

Faculty Members Attended Meeting In Washington, D. C., Recently

Attending the annual meeting of the American Historical Association, December 27-30, were Dr. Hattie Anderson and Dr. Ima Barlow of the West Texas State History Department.

The meeting was held in the Mayflower Hotel in Washington, D. C., and was attended by an estimated 1500 leading historians of America.

Using a theme built around the year 1848, the convention depicted the surge of the revolutionistic idea of that time with the situation in the world today.

One of the most important purposes of this annual gathering was to better acquaint persons interested in history with papers and documents of historical importance.

The convention was divided into several sessions at which definite aspects of some historical subjects were discussed.

Indicative of some of the sessions were the ones presided over by Douglas Freeman, author of Life of Robert E. Lee. He is currently engaged in writing the life of George Washington.

Walter Lippman, noted newspaper columnist and radio commentator, headed one session of the convention.

Dr. Ples Harper, Head of the Modern Language Department, attended the annual meeting of the American Association of Teachers of Spanish Convention in New York City during the holidays.

The gathering took place December 26 through the 29 and was held in the Hotel New Yorker.

Main discussions concerned the problems of teaching modern languages, particularly Spanish. Preparation of teachers was also discussed.

One of the outstanding speakers, according to Dr. Harper, was Stephen A. Freeman, Dean of the French School, Middlebury College.

Stanford University, Palo Alto, California, was chosen as the site for the next meeting to be held the first week in September.

No Mandate For Control Medicine

According to some of the eager beavers in the government, the election was a mandate for Congressional approval of Federal compulsory health insurance. It is to the credit of Oscar R. Ewing, Federal Security Administrator, that he said frankly that no mandate is involved. Mr. Ewing supports the scheme—but, as he pointed out in a speech, too many issues played a part in deciding the election to say that any one was the big factor.

The Christian Science Monitor elaborated on this when it said editorially: "The farm vote which helped to elect Mr. Truman was certainly not motivated by an urge for this compulsory program. Farm sentiment generally runs strongly in opposition. The two leading farm organizations have gone on record against socialized medicine. While organized labor formally favors the plan, it did not rank as a campaign issue nor arouse any driving enthusiasm in the rank and file of the workers."

The truth is that this "people's mandate" business is being overworked by every minority pressure group in the country. According to these groups, the public is red hot for more and more socialism, more and more government debt, more and more taxation to pay for the experiments—and, by implication, less and less freedom and independence. Compulsory health insurance is just one example of this. There

College Selected For Music Site

West Texas State has been selected for the second successive year to be host to the Interscholastic League Music Contests. These meetings will be on this campus the second and fourth weeks of April.

Vocal contests for Region 1 will be held during the second week and band and orchestra contests will be held during the fourth week.

The selection of West Texas State as the site for the contests was made by the Interscholastic League Executive Committee which is headed by Lee Johnson, Phillips High School superintendent.

Jerry Newman, Buffalo Band leader, is the contest director; however, he is working in close cooperation with the Texas Music Educators officials, of which Don Hayes, Littlefield, is band chairman; Louise Dicken, Amarillo, orchestra chairman; and Madeline Robinson, Amarillo, vocal chairman.

Participants in the contests will be some 40 bands, 25 to 30 choirs and 5 orchestras. In all, nearly 6,000 music students will be here on the campus during the contests.

It is amazing how important regular exercise can become to a business man who wants to play golf.

A friendly tip: Beware of the man who says, "I will take up only a few minutes of your time."

It is absolutely no evidence to make it appear that a large segment of the voters want any part of it.

Oil Shortage Is Solved By Free Enterprise

Remember when it was widely forecast that the country was on the verge of a really critical oil shortage? According to the prophets of gloom, homes would be without heat and industries would have to shut down for lack of fuel. The only possible solution, they went on, was for the government to move in and allocate oil, and, in general, run the petroleum industry.

As matters turned out, none of this happened. The government didn't step in, though it seemed close to it a time or two. And there was no oil shortage. It is true that in some areas, for brief periods, there were dislocations and temporary scarcities. But these were taken care of by voluntary cooperation between the oil companies and their dealers and customers, and no one suffered for a lack of petroleum.

At the present time, in midwinter, oil supply and demand are in good balance. Indeed, matters have improved to such an extent that the government itself has revoked rules governing its own agencies designed to hold the use of oil to a minimum.

Why were the forecasts at such a variance with the actuality? The principal reason is this: free enterprise, left alone to meet a problem, provided the solution. It rolled up its sleeves and went to work. It made every facility it had do double duty. It built new facilities as fast as it could. It got the oil out of the ground, it refined it, and it moved it swiftly and efficiently to the consumers who wanted it.

In all probability, government in-

Edison Day Is of Importance To All People

Next February 11th, the birthday of Thomas Alva Edison will be observed on a nationwide scale, as it has in past years. The emphasis is to be placed upon community recognition of the inventor's great contributions to human betterment, and all manner of civic and service organizations will play a leading part.

The achievements of Edison are too well known to need repeating. Foremost among them were his successful experiments in the science of electricity, which provided the ground work on which the whole vast power industry was built, and which has revolutionized the living and working habits of the American people. Edison Day thus becomes a tribute to one of the greatest public benefactors the world has ever known.

But there is more to it than this. Edison Day must also be seen as a celebration of the greatest force for progress that exists—the freedom of the individual to explore, to create, to fail and to succeed, all without coercion or domination by government. Can anyone believe that the electric industry, which is Edison's monument, would have reached its present stage of growth and public service had government controlled it from the beginning? Government imitates, but it never creates. Government takes no chances that it can avoid.

Edison was in the great tradition of this country. It is a tradition that those who are seeking to socialize and regiment our energies and resources would destroy.

Mass of Problems Face Congress As the New Session Gets Underway; Want More Money for Government

Each session of each branch of Congress is opened with a prayer, in which a chaplain usually expresses the hope that the lawmakers will be blessed with a high degree of wisdom. That hope will be shared by everyone in the country to an unusual extent this year. Few peacetime Congresses have been faced with more difficult issues to decide.

In the field of foreign policy, the Marshall Plan, probably with extensive revisions, will be continued. The acts of Paul Hoffman, in his role as chief of ERP, have met with general approval of the members of both parties. But there are great unanswered questions remaining—as, for instance, what if anything we shall do about China, and what changes may be made in our controversial policies in Greece, where American officers are to all intents and purposes active military leaders in the civil war. The fact that communism throughout the world has made great strides since the last Congress met, will not go unremarked.

On the domestic front, the first matters of business will be concerned with the legislative program laid down by the President during and after the campaign. As the outlook shapes up now, the Taft-Hartley Act will be extensively revised, but it will not be repealed in toto. Direct price control will not be imposed, and it is doubtful if, under current conditions, the President will ask for it. It is probable that a modified public housing bill will pass, but not so extensive a measure as the Administration favors. The military budgets will be the subject of much debate, and it is quite possible that the $15,000,000,000 ceiling which Mr. Truman espouses will be exceeded. And, if coming events seem to justify it, an all-inclusive stand-by bill, to go into immediate effect if another national emergency is declared by Congress, may be passed.

The cost of government will be a factor in the debate on all the principal measures. In the view of the President's council of economic advisors, there is no hope for a substantial reduction in governmental spending "for years to come." In the view of others, that opinion is not necessarily right. That is one reason why the Hoover report on governmental reorganization has been so eagerly awaited in many circles.

This report, which is the work of a huge staff of experts working under the ex-President, is the most complete analysis of the mechanics of our government ever attempted. Excerpts from it have been published, and the whole report will be available before long. The purpose of the monumental work is to find ways and means to make government more efficient and more economical without eliminating any necessary services.

The report is critical to the military services, on the grounds that desirable cooperation among them in many matters has not been accomplished, and that each service maintains expensive, overlapping bureaus which should be consolidated. It believes that we have not made much progress toward the goal of unification, and that extensive reorganization of our system of administering the whole defense establishment is necessary.

The report recommends important changes in the manner of operation of the sprawling post office department, designed to place it on a sounder financial basis. At present, post office revenues all go into the general fund of the Treasury, and Congress makes appropriations each year for meeting the department's expenses. The report recommends that the post office keep its revenues and pay its overhead out of them. In this connection, the Postmaster General will ask for higher mail rates on some classifications.

The report takes notice of the fact that the government often has trouble securing the services of good men, due to low pay in high categories. The rank and file of routine workers in government average a little higher income than their equivalents in private industry. But, going up the ladder, the situation is reversed and men whose responsibilities are tremendous are poorly paid. If the report is followed, government salaries on the top levels will be greatly increased. The President's pay, for instance, would be doubled—from $75,000 to $150,000 a year. That $75,000 figure, incidentally, was adopted about 40 years ago.

All in all, the report dwells heavily on the wasteful duplication of government functions. There are innumerable lending agencies, health and medical bureaus, planning sections, and so on, all of which have large staffs, all of which make a noticeable dent in the budget—and many of which could be eliminated outright or combined with others. The motive of the Hoover Commission is to give Congress a clear and detailed blueprint which will make quick remedial action possible.

Congress has a bombshell on its hands in the amazing evidence produced by the Un-American Activities Investigation. The Whittaker Chambers-Alger Hiss affair cannot be passed off without going into every ramification of the matter and finding out where the truth lies. It seems plain that confidential government information, some in the top secret classification, found its way into the hands of foreign agents, and that American officials must have cooperated in one fashion or another. The temper of Congress is to ferret out what happened, and to make such occurrences impossible in the future.

FHA Members Will Announce CHS's "Prince Charming"

Who will be the FHA "Prince Charming" who is to be presented at the annual Sweetheart Banquet? "Prince Charming," a student of Canyon High, is to be elected by members of the FHA and his identity is to be kept a secret until the banquet. He is supposed to be the girl's ideal boy to represent their organization. The date for the banquet will be February 11, as announced at a meeting of the Future Homemakers last Tuesday. It will be formal and will take place in the high school gymnasium. The time will be decided later.

Mrs. Perry Bell, homemaking instructor, presented Donna Erwin and Linda Dooley with Junior Homemaker's Degrees. The degree is a little scroll, worn on the chain of the FHA pin, which is a symbol showing that they have done the things required to achieve this degree. Most of the girls who have had at least one year of homemaking are eligible to work toward one. "Seeing these two girls receive their degrees has stimulated interest in this work and I expect to see more girls attain this honor in the near future," states Mrs. Bell.

FACTS VS. FINGERS
Do students ever stop to think that the one universal necessity in the business world today is the typewriter? Probably the modern business office could not operate without it.

The idea of this machine occurred to an Englishman over two hundred years ago, but he could not secure financial backing to get it manufactured. The credit for inventing the first really successful machine belongs to a Wisconsin man named Sholes. In 1873 he sold his patent to the Remington Gun Company who manufactured and sold four-hundred machines the first year.

Now experts can type over one-hundred words per minute. Today the typewriter is used in practically every field of study. Knowledge of its use is a necessity.

To become an expert typist one must have patience and be willing to practice. Yes, patience and practice! Two of the most useful accomplishments any person can acquire. These qualities are priceless in any field of work. And those who acquire them are those who succeed!

Biologists Order Various Animals

Frogs, crayfish, clams, grasshoppers, earthworms, hydra and graminia will arrive in CHS for the two biology classes. Along with six dissecting kits, consisting of scalpels, scissors and probes, for an extensive study of the above specimens.

There will be one animal for every two students to study. The next semester's study of animals will be aided by these.

There are twenty-four students in Mr. Lowell Potter's class, and nineteen in Mr. Jack Barnett's, making a total of forty-three students taking Biology in Canyon High.

The classes studied plants last semester and will go into the animal study soon after the second semester.

Students Dread Mid-Term Tests

"Poison, yes, that's the only way out now. Here are mid-term tests right before me and I haven't gotten all of my work in." Are those the words creeping out of your larynx (throat to you). Or are you walking around, acting snobbish just because your English IV test was a cinch, your History notebook is complete and what do you know, Mr. Barnett said that you would pass biology with flying colors.

That boy! Is he having a fit? Look, he sits, writes, fills his pen, writes a few more words, opens window, wipes beads of perspiration from his forehead. Goodness he is going to say something. "Gosh, I'll never get this old term theme in."

But don't think that such goings on are limited to boys, the fairer sex (girls that is) also worries. "Oh my home project! It isn't in yet" or "I haven't studied one bit for the choir test and in five minutes Mr. Demus will start the questions."

Oh, woe, is me! Memorize poetry, write themes, hand in note books for test, (seems as if I didn't learn one thing first semester. Now, I have it all straight, John Milton's works are: to hem three skirts, and name the four layers of a leaf. Oh no, let's see, to construct a dress you name the ten functions of life and answer five questions on England's greatest authors.

My, as I said before, "Drink deep in the well of learning or—poison is the only way out."

Alice Gill Suffers Injuries Friday

Alice Jean Gill was injured Friday at noon when she received deep cuts on both arms. She attempted to run into the house through the door leading to the girls' locker room, but pushed against the closed door and ran both arms through two small glass panes of the door, cutting both arms deeply.

Mr. Jack Barnett rushed her to the hospital where the doctor worked for one hour and twenty-five minutes bandaging the wounds. Her left arm required a cast since one of the leaders in it was cut in two. Altogether, twenty-four stitches were taken in her left arm, and fourteen were necessary for the right one.

She is back in school this week, and seems to be recovering rapidly. "We regret this accident greatly," states Superintendent E. A. Wooten, "and hope that our students in the future may learn to develop caution which will lessen possibilities of accidents in the routine of our work."

White Rats Kick the Bucket

Don't cry! It had to happen sometime.

Two of the white mice passed away during the week end.

Mrs. Bell believes that death is due to pneumonia. The mice were left in the building while it was very warm. Then when it cooled off, they caught cold.

The funeral came early Monday morning when Mr. Wallen cremated them. The crowd who attended was in Mr. Wallen's words, "mostly me."

Tourney Winners Nudge Eaglettes

CHS Eaglettes journeyed to Stratford Friday morning to participate in the annual basketball tournament held there.

The Eaglettes played Dalhart in the single elimination tourney Friday afternoon at 2:15. Scoring only 32 points to Dalhart's 40 the Eaglettes were defeated. Dalhart was the champion of the tournament, winning over the strong Stratford team in the finals Saturday night, 40-29.

Canyon forwards made the majority of their points on crisp shots. Bobby Ford led her teammates in scoring honors with 14 points to her credit. Dorothy Butler followed a close second with 12 points.

The Wolverines were sparked by a strong offensive trio who were nearly impossible to stop. Davis was high scorer for Dalhart, ringing up 16 points while Dye followed with 12 points to her honor.

The Eaglettes next game will be in the Tulia tournament Thursday night. They will play Nazareth in their first round. The winners of this game will meet the Dimmitt Bobbies Friday night at six o'clock.

Annual Staff Is Busy on Work

Annual material is being prepared to beat the second deadline of January 28. This section consists of the ads and the football pictures with probably some photographs of teachers and school officials.

The first thirty pages were sent to the publishers, December 20. This section included photographs of the juniors, sophomores, freshmen, seventh and eighth grades together with the grade school teacher's division.

Staff members are busy on personal assignments, each one designating his special pages to follow the dummy as outlined by the editor, Janey Forester. Betty Erwin is art editor and is busy on division pages.

Other members of the staff are: Laura Davis, Sarah Janes Martin, Jerry Foster, Ema Gene Zachry, Mary Ruth Hill, and Bryce Slack.

"We urge all students to assist us in our work by donating snapshots at this time," states Mrs. Nora E. Gilmore, sponsor.

Games Highlight Senior Social

Table games highlighted the senior class party held Wednesday, December 12, in the high school gym.

The old-fashioned game of "Winkum" played a prominent part in the evening's entertainment.

Refreshments of apple and cherry cider and doughnuts were served to about 30 members of the senior class by Mesdames C. O. Elkins, Bud Hickman, W. L. Arent, Walter Graham, Burney Slack, and John Jennings, room mothers.

Chorus Presents Songs for P-TA

Twenty-five members of the CHS choir will sing the following numbers for PTA, Thursday afternoon: "Lovely Night," "Calm Is the Night," and "April Showers." This group is directed by Herman Demus, teacher of band and music in the Canyon High School.

The choir is also planning to enter the choral contest to be held at West Texas State College within a few weeks. This choir is composed entirely of girls, since no boys have reported for practice.

"We shall do our best to make a favorable showing in the contest in the spring," says Mr. Demus. "The girls are quite enthusiastic about the contest and other work."

The choir has an hour class in choral work every afternoon from 12:30 until 1:30 o'clock each day, and receives one-half credit for the work.

Teamsters Get New Warm-ups

Canyon Hoopsters Enter Tulia Invitational Tourney

Canyon's Eagles and Eaglettes will travel to Tulia again this weekend; this time to enter an invitational to be held in the Tulia High School gym. The Eagles meet Hereford in their first encounter and the Eaglettes tangle with Nazareth. The skirmish between the Eagles and the Whitefaces should turn out to be a thriller in anyone's language. They defeated the Tulia Hornets 4 points in a game the other day and the Eagles downed the Hornets by 6 points in Friday's contest.

The Eagles broke their losing streak Friday night by journeying to Tulia and coming home with a 34-28 victory to their credit.

The Tulia Hornets took the lead early in the game and were ahead 9-6 at the end of the first quarter. The Hornets couldn't be shaken loose from their edge and were still leading at the half time whistle, 17-13.

Canyon began gradually catching up and the score tied 24-24 as the third period came to a close. Bruce Winn and Billy Cleavinger found the distance to the hoop in the fourth quarter and at the final whistle the Eagles had won a hard fought game from a determined team 34-28.

Bruce Winn led the victors with 13 points to his credit and Billy Cleavinger followed with 7 points.

Richard Walters scored 6, Jerre Inman 4 and Joe Abbott was close behind with 3 points. Berhends led the losers with a total of 15 markers.

New uniforms for the CHS Eagles arrived last Friday in time to be worn in the game at Tulia.

The material is of white silk jersey, the pants are white with purple stripes down both sides and purple stripes around the bottom. The shirts are white with purple numbers and purple trim around the top. Ten suits were ordered and each suit cost approximately ten dollars.

Warm-ups to match the suits are expected to arrive within the next few days.

"The boys seem to like the fit and looks of them. They no doubt will play much better since new suits are naturally an inspiration to any team," says Coach R. D. Wheelock.

Junior Team Loses Score to Outlaws

Canyon Junior Team suffered a second defeat at the hands of the "Outlaws" last Friday afternoon.

The first game was a comparatively easy game with the Harold Martin and Carl Hair "Outlaws" controlling the entire game. The second game was fairly close, but the "Outlaws" held the lead throughout the game.

At the half the score was 16-13 in favor of the "Outlaws" with a final score of 38-30. The winning team was led by Harold Martin with 16 points and Philip Busted with 8 points.

The "Outlaws" are looking for more games and are willing to play any team that will give them a game, in town or out.

The Juniors were led by Morton with 8 points and Ratliff with 6 points.

Church Leader Calls For House Cleaning Unions

The Most Reverend Russell J. McViney, the Catholic Bishop of Providence, recently spoke to one of the CIO unions. He condemned strike violence and "slowdown" tactics. Then he said: "It is a grave sin against justice for a workman to accept a day's wages when he knows he is not giving an honest day's work. Bricklayers used to lay 1,500 bricks a day, but now they're down to 400."

"Drones and racketeers who operate under the aegis of your unions are bringing shame to you. I think it is time they be punished within the union or read out of membership. They are discrediting organized labor, and you may all regret it. I charge you to set about purging the undesirables and correcting the abuses."

Millions of Americans who support the cause of organized labor will agree with this churchman. If labor does not voluntarily clean house, it will simply bring down upon its head far harsher legislation than any so far experienced. The "slowdown" in worker output has become a scandal in the building trades in many areas, and in other fields of work as well. And organized violence, with its destruction of automobiles, factories and its vicious physical attacks on non-strikers, can be described only by the word criminal.

The fight of highly-placed labor leaders against communism in labor's ranks has earned the applause of the country. It is equally important that elements which want big pay for a bare minimum of output, or which seek their ends through violence, be ostracized. Labor must clean its house for its own sake.

BRAVERY REWARDED

Merit Medal Honors Girl

WASHINGTON.—Inspired by the heroism of Ruth Orani of Los Angeles, the District of Columbia council of the Navy League of the United States has created a foundation to reward merit in the nation's youth.

Annually on Navy Day, October 27, the year's outstanding young American, boy or girl, will be provided with funds to assist any career the winner may choose.

The project arose from the Navy Day honor visit here of the 17-year-old Los Angeles girl, daughter of a retired chief machinist's mate, who risked her life to save a baby from a deep pool of petroleum waste.

The Navy league paid high honors to Ruth at an elaborate program, emphasizing that it did so to pay tribute to "the fine qualities of our boys and girls which too often go unrecognized."

Donation Annually. Ruth's Washington visit was sponsored by the league district council and the Los Angeles Examiner.

Creation of the foundation was ordered by the board of directors of the Navy league council at the suggestion of the council's president, E. Cortlandt Parker.

To the fund, the league council will make a substantial donation annually, and subscriptions will be received from the public at large.

Parker, a marine corps reserve colonel, said he had already received offers of more than $500 in subscriptions, which are tax free.

By scholarships or in other ways the fund, to be awarded at the annual Navy Day banquet, would "assist youths of America who have demonstrated true American principles by outstanding acts related to associates or civic affairs."

Navy Interest Stressed.

It was pointed out that acts of heroism such as Ruth's would not be necessary to win, but a requirement will be that the winner declare an interest in the navy.

Colonel Parker said: "If a winner happens to be a boy who wants to be a plumber, then we'll help him to become a good plumber."

"In general, though, the annual reward will be invested in scholarships or traveling fellowships and in research in the arts and crafts."

Scientist Claims Body Gets Rid of Excessive Vitamins

CHICAGO. — People who take large doses of vitamin B-1 to give them extra pep and energy are only wasting their time, according to a Northwestern university scientist.

Dr. Theodore E. Friedemann, associate professor of physiology, said the vitamin might be a potent energy builder if the body would absorb enough of it.

But he said laboratory tests revealed that doses of more than two ten-thousandths of an ounce—about 1/65th of an aspirin tablet—are largely wasted.

The body won't take any more than that, he reported. Furthermore, the tests indicated that if the vitamin is taken constantly over a period of time, the body sometimes becomes allergic to it.

Friedemann said it made virtually no difference whether the vitamin was taken by mouth or through the veins.

Californian Recovers Lost $1,400 After Big Commotion

LOS ANGELES.—It almost cost Business Executive Hal Clay $1,400 when he accidentally spilled a dinner salad on his trousers.

He changed trousers but forgot to remove fourteen $100 bills. Mrs. Clay sent the trousers to the cleaners. Later, Clay remembered the $1,400. Jack Barton, the employee who picked up the pants didn't. He went with Clay to the establishment, found it locked, couldn't locate the proprietor, and was climbing through a rear window when police arrived.

It took some explaining for Clay and Barton to convince officers, but they did it. They found Clay's pants, but the money was gone.

Barton thought it might be well to look around outside Clay's house. There, lying in the gutter, half-buried in a pile of leaves, was the $1,400.

Barton got a $50 reward, Clay some pointed advice from his wife.

Water Discovery in Desert Is Big News for Mojave

MOJAVE, CALIF. — They've struck water near Mojave! That's more important to this desert town than gold was 100 years ago, or the recent uranium find near Beaumont, Calif.

Water has been the principal problem since Mojave was founded in 1876. It has been hauled in by Southern Pacific railroad tank cars. It costs residents 25¢ for 1,000 gallons—about $10 a month to water lawns.

One well recently came in at Monolith, 12 miles away. A few days ago another began producing at 1,000 gallons a minute on property five miles east of town. If tests of the water prove satisfactory, there will be a special election to authorize a bond issue to purchase one of the wells.

Four WT Shows Hit Radio Airways

"With the introduction of programs of this week, radio activities at West Texas State have hit an all-time high." Thus Jack Walker of the Speech Department summed up the results of months of careful planning and work to bring a comprehensive plan of programming for the students and supporters of this college.

The newest feature of the Music and Speech Departments will hit the airways tomorrow morning at 9:45 on Station KFDD, at 1440. This program will feature fifteen minutes of music by the West Texas Concert Band.

Another Saturday feature will be a quarter-hour edition of W. T. Campus News, which will be carried by Station KVAI, also at 9:45 a. m. This program is designed to give all the week's activities on the campus, as well as other items of interest to ex-students and friends of the school.

A feature inaugurated last Monday was an exclusive interview conducted by Jerry Malin, Publicity Director of West Texas State. This week's interview was with W. A. Miller, Athletic Director and Head Basketball Coach. This weekly feature can be heard on Monday during KAMQ's Sports Roundup which is heard daily at 5:30 p. m.

The oldest college radio show is the Collegians' program, which is heard at 4:45 on Monday afternoon, KAMQ, 1010 on the dial.

A new feature of the Collegians show is the weekly description of some place or item of interest on the campus. This feature replaces the college calendar of events which will now be included in the Campus News show on KVAI.

Mr. Walker wishes to announce that all these programs are regular features and may be heard each week at their regular time. He urges all students to "keep posted" on varsity doings by making it a practice to listen.

When the next presidential election rolls around it might be a good idea to have one of the polls predict which poll is correct.

WORK'S DONE FASTER Electrically

ON THE farm and on the ranch work is done faster when electric service is effectively used.

Today more farms and ranches have electricity than ever before, and those who already have dependable electric service are finding more uses for it than ever before.

These progressive men are finding that electric lighting in the work areas, electric refrigeration, electric power tools for repairs and maintenance, electric milkers, brooders, incubators, choppers, and loaders all mean that more work can be done in a shorter period of time...at less cost.

When the time saved is compared with the low operating cost of modern electrical farm and ranch aids, the answer is obvious. That's why so many are using so much electric service. Check with your nearest county agent, REA or Public Service representative to see where electricity can help you.

News In Canyon 25 Years Ago

Rev. F. B. McDowell resigned as pastor of the Presbyterian Church. Daughters were born to Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Bauer and Coach and Mrs. S. D. Burton.

White lines were painted on the new paving around the square to direct pedestrians.

Jim Ferguson announced as a candidate for Governor. If his name is barred from the ticket because of the impeachment, he will enter the name of Mrs. Ferguson as a candidate.

The Commissioners Court ordered a reduction in the county treasurer's salary from $125 per month to $50 per month starting next January.

An effort is being made to organize a Kiwanis Club in Canyon. John Vetek has leased his land south of Canyon and bought a meat market in Amarillo. He will move to Amarillo next week.

H. C. Roffey has had brick experts examine the clay on his farm north of Canyon with the view of starting a brick and tile plant.

Local business men are trying to secure an ice plant and a steam laundry for Canyon.

The Canyon Eagles defeated the Lubbock Westerners in two basketball games 16 to 6; and 29 to 6.

To be a success in journalism an individual must have character, a flair for news, inexhaustible energy and the ability to get along on two-thirds pay.

It has about reached the point that every form of depraved human conduct is said to be a "disease" for which nobody should be punished. So the experts assert.

If there are important Russian leaders interested in getting along with the United States the commotion is not visible from this side of the Atlantic.

There are financial experts who have been predicting an economic collapse for the last five years. Eventually, they may be right.

Executives who succeed seldom center their main interests upon the clock or the pay-check. That is why there are so few of them.

It's just as easy to fill your mind with something worth knowing as with rancid humor.
